

Frequent Flyers® Aerial Dance: Aerial Arts Instructors

Frequent Flyers is a Boulder, Colorado, non-profit aerial dance organization seeking aerial arts instructors to join our incredible faculty! Our organization's mission is to create and promote the magic of aerial dance through performance and education, and our vision is to help people see the world from a new perspective through experiencing the upside-down realm of aerial dance.

We believe this expanded consciousness helps people to maximize their creative potential. We are looking to add instructors to our team that will promote a welcoming, safe, non-competitive, and inclusive environment that makes students feel encouraged to express themselves and reach their personal goals. Our faculty members use their unique and diverse skill sets to train the whole artist and promote longevity. Our classes focus on developing proper technique, encouraging healthy risk-taking, creative expression, and fun!

Instructors report to the Director of Education and work in collaboration with other faculty members. Instructors may teach in a variety of Frequent Flyers' education programs, including our community school, Student Company, Intensive Training Program, Professional Training Program, and Kids Who Fly outreach programming. Our school teaches classes in a wide variety of aerial apparatus and levels for ages 5-adult.

These are independent contractor positions with hours varying based on work available, schedule availability, and experience. Our greatest need is for instructors able to teach on Thursdays, Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays. The majority of our classes take place Monday-Friday from 4-9pm and Saturday and Sunday between 10am-5pm. Our Professional Training classes take place between 11am-4pm on weekdays. We also offer occasional weekday daytime community/outreach classes, various camps and events, and private lessons and parties.
